

Young Mother Shoots Self and Children

JACKSONVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A young Air Force wife shot her two children, one fatally, as they slept today and then put a bullet through her own heart, authorities said.

Dead were Mrs. Joyce M. Coffey, 22, and her daughter, Sheila, 3. Michael Coffey, 4, was taken to Little Rock hospital. He was struck over the heart.

The shooting was not discovered until about two hours after it apparently took place when Michael staggered out of the family's trailer home shouting for help.

A neighbor girl, Cathy Johnson, 9, said Michael screamed, "My mommy shot me and my little sister," and then ran back into the trailer.

Cathy's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Johnson, went to the Coffey trailer and found Sheila dead in bed. Mrs. Johnson was lying on the floor with Michael sobbing at her feet.

The father, Airman 2 C. L. M. Coffey, 23, of Columbia, Tenn., was off duty but working on a construction project to earn extra money. He told police he left for the job about 6:30 a. m. Coffey became hysterical when he learned of the tragedy.

Jacksonville Police Chief Myron Traylor said Mrs. Coffey muffled the gun shots by wrapping the .38 caliber pistol in a towel.

Patrolman E. M. C. L. Tucker said Mrs. Coffey apparently put the muzzle of the gun to the children's backs before she fired.

Reason for the tragedy was not known.

Mrs. Johnson and other neighbors said Mrs. Coffey appeared to be a model wife and mother and that there was no indication of family trouble.

Mrs. Johnson said the Coffeys had company Wednesday night and that laughter was heard from their trailer.

Coffey, taken to the scene, mumbled, "This just can't be happening to me."

Chaplain from the Little Rock Air Force Base, where he is stationed, led him away.

Arkla Will Begin Rate Testimony

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Attorneys for Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., which has asked the Public Service Commission to approve a $1.2 million annual rate increase already in effect, will begin presenting rebuttal testimony July 24.

Attorneys and witnesses for cities opposing the increase charged in testimony Wednesday that Arkla and its subsidiaries made a 19.23 per cent return on their capital investment during 1960 and that Arkla penalized its customers by overvaluing the cost of gas by $1,333,600.

Arkla attorneys said the figures were wrong and indicated they would be attacked in rebuttal testimony.

Cities opposed to the increase were represented at Wednesday's hearing by J. V. Spencer Jr., El Dorado city attorney and George Holmes, Pine Bluff city attorney. Arkla put the rate increase into effect April 1. Under the raise, monthly minimum charges were boosted from $1.10 to $1.50.

Faubus Still Silent on Special Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The date of a special session of the legislature is still up in the air today, Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Wednesday that he would not set a definite date until he gets the opinions of a cross section of the lawmakers.

"I know I can't pick a month that will please them all," Faubus said after conferring with several members of the general assembly, including Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsen.

Faubus had said previously he would call the legislature into session either late this month or early next month to reappropriate funds contained in the omnibus construction law which was declared unconstitutional by the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Several lawmakers have indicated they might introduce legislation to provide funds for a state construction program. Faubus proposed $60 million bond issue for such a program was defeated at a special election June 27.

Van Dalsen urged Faubus to delay calling the session to allow a "cooling off" period.

Woman Faces Charge in Shooting

SUTEGART, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Mary North, 32, of Grand Prairie, Tex., faces arraignment Friday in the fatal shooting of her former husband after a break in her complicity forced a postponement in the hearing Wednesday.

Mrs. North remains in jail without formal charge in connection with the death of Ernest W. Vaughan Monday night in a shooting in which her present husband and mother-in-law were wounded.

Taken before Municipal Judge Milton Robinson for arraignment Wednesday, Mrs. North almost broke into tears and was unable to answer when Robinson asked if she wished to consult with anyone about getting an attorney.

Robinson had her returned to jail and reset the hearing for Friday.

Mrs. North told officers she shot Vaughan, 49, of near De Witt after he had opened fire and wounded Thomas North, 39, and North's 65-year-old mother, Mrs. Nellie Mays. She said it was an outgrowth of a dispute over custody of the 9-year-old son born during her marriage to Vaughan.

She said she and her husband had come to Arkansas to get the boy, of whom she had been granted custody for the summer months.

66 Convicts Are Given Paroles

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Parole Board granted paroles Wednesday to 66 prisoners, including J. D. Sims who was one of five persons convicted in the 1959 Labor Day bombings here.

The board reportedly also considered commutation petitions for two other convicted bombers. The board does not identify clemency petitions unless the governor acts favorably on them.

Reports indicated clemency was asked for Jesse Raymond Perry and John Taylor Coggins.

The three, along with E. A. Lauderdale Sr. and Samuel Graydon Beavers, were convicted in the dynamiting of the Little Rock School Board office, Little Rock Mayor Werner Knapp's business office and a city-owned station wagon following an integration flap.

Lauderdale, Coggins and Perry each received three-year sentences while Sims was sentenced to five years and Beavers received a five-year suspended sentence.

The board Wednesday granted parole to former Carroll County Treasurer Edwin L. Champlin of Berryville, who was convicted of embezzling some $20,000 in public funds and was sentenced to seven years in 1959.

Opposition to AFL-CIO Is Threatened

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press Labor Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — James R. Hoffa today threatened to start a rival union labor federation unless the AFL-CIO readmits the Teamsters Union.

"Eighteen months isn't too far away," Hoffa said, "for a federation involving the teamsters either in the AFL-CIO or a separate federation."

The Teamsters president said he has talked with practically all AFL-CIO chiefs and they want him back — all except AFL-CIO President George Meany, whom Hoffa called "a dopey, thickheaded Irishman."

Hoffa said he is sure even his Detroit rival, auto workers head Walter Reuther, favors cancelling the Teamsters' three-year-old expulsion on corruption charges.

Hoffa said he could work with both Meany and Reuther despite personality conflicts to bring all unions into one federation.

The Teamsters convention voted to pay legal costs for its officials unions into one federation. Union President James R. Hoffa also gavelled through the willing delegates a new constitutional provision apparently loosening the purse strings of local union treasurers.

From now on the locals can invest in any property, real or personal, and leave money deposited in banks without interest. Locals can make loans "direct and indirect for such purposes and with such security, if any, as they deem appropriate and with such arrangements for repayment as they deem appropriate."

Edward H. Painter, Local 70, Oakland, Calif., was booted and shouted down in an attempt to raise strike benefits higher than Hoffa proposed. Hoffa reminded Painter that he was one of a small group that had unsuccessfully opposed a dues increase at Wednesday night's session.

Peter J. Holan, Local 713, Chicago, protested against the bees and caucuses against Painter, saying that even protesting delegates should be given a fair hearing. The dues increase helped Hoffa consolidate control over the 1.7 million member union, largest in the nation.

Hoffa smashed his minority opposition's attempts to block his way to a new five-year term as union president.

Hoffa scored his biggest triumph on winning convention approval of a yearly $12 million dues increase at a grueling all-day and night session of a special Teamsters convention.

Hoffa gavelled through the convention an easy boost in his own salary from $50,000 to $70,000 a year. It made him the highest paid union official in the land. But he said he deserved it because he presided over the biggest U.S. labor organization.

The dues increase over delegates' protests would boost Hoffa's headquarters revenue to about $20 million a year. It would raise member dues requirements by $1 per member per month.

Milton J. Lass, president of the Newark, N.J. Local 478 and Hoffa's only opponent for re-election, lost a series of convention floor battles to limit his program.

Lass and others argued that the dues hike and other Hoffa proposals would limit local union autonomy and right to serve in union office and as convention delegates.

The convention shoved through new provisions to limit rank and file members to hold union office and to attend future conventions.

These new rules, adopted by the convention, require that candidates for national union office serve at least two years in local office and that local officials must attend at least 50 per cent of local union meetings.

Hoffa obviously was in full charge of the 2,000 delegates as he called for decisions on a series of proposals that would build his union power.

Bank Call for 30th of June

WASHINGTON (AP) — The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for a statement of the condition of all national banks at the close of business Friday, June 30.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation also called for a report on the same date on the condition of insured state banks which are not members of the federal reserve system.

Independent Grocer Is Big Asset

Food buying is a big business — in Arkansas, a $386,096,000 a year business. The amount spent for food in the state surpasses the combined amount spent for general merchandise, clothing and furniture.

But the real value of sales is not in the spending of the dollar, but rather in the chain of events called "dollar turnover." Economists have estimated that each dollar changes hands eight times before it leaves the community or area in which it originally was spent, when spent with your independent grocer.

"The independent grocer of Hope contributes a lot of this 'dollar turnover.'"

Of the total spent on food purchases in the state in 1960 nearly 65 per cent, or $250,000,000 was spent with independent grocers in the process of "turning over," this figure accounts for a $10,000,000 payroll.

Recent surveys by food researchers indicate that the shopper likes a food store that offers more personal service and more leisurely shopping. These demands are supplied easily through the independent grocer — a resident of the community.

More Worked But More Idle Too

WASHINGTON (AP) — More Americans held down jobs last month than ever before. And yet, unemployment increased.

With school closing, teen-agers began hunting either permanent work or summer jobs. The Labor Department counts them in the labor force, which is the number of people working plus those looking for jobs.

So, while employment increased 1.9 million from mid-May to an all-time high of 68,706,000 in mid-June, unemployment rose 600,000 to 5.6 million.

The previous employment high was 68,689,000 last July. In announcing the figures on Wednesday, the Labor Department once again reported a seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment of 6.8 per cent. This figure virtually has remained constant for seven months.

Temperature of 90 Danger to Poultry

Summer temperatures above 90 degrees push poultry house temperatures above the danger mark and can cause serious losses if some management practices are neglected.

One of the most important things a grower can do is provide plenty of drinking water for the birds. During the final weeks of the growing period, watering space becomes very critical. Birds consume about twice as much water as feed and it is important that adequate waterers are available. Birds should not have to go more than 15 feet for water.

You can reduce the inside temperature of broiler houses that have a dark colored roof by whitewashing the roof. Tests have shown that a white surfaced roof will reflect heat and white paint or whitewash gives equal results. A good whitewash treatment will last through the summer months.

Air movement through the broiler house is very important. Circulate air through the house by ventilation openings and if necessary use electric fans to create air movement. If fans are used they should be spaced through the house and all blow in the same direction. Fans should be available for immediate use during the summer on extremely hot days.

It pays to prevent hot weather losses. County Agent Calvin Caldwell said. Mortality occurring during the end of the growing period affects feed conversion and other factors usually considered in the incentive payments to the grower.

Delays Phone Rate Increase

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Effective date of a telephone rate increase at Kensel and Imboden was delayed for the third time Wednesday by the Arkansas Public Service Commission.

The commission postponed the proposed rate increase until Oct. 2 to allow further investigation by the PSC staff.

The increase was requested Feb. 10 for the Four States Telephone Co., which seeks to acquire the cities from its parent company, Southwestern States Telephone Co.

Following the water show, the Youth Center is sponsoring a Shreveport band.

The bid opening led to a controversy over how the proposals should be handled. Some bidders wanted Mrs. Hall to change the procedure, but she stuck to a system here late husband, Secretary of State C. G. Hall, used for many years.

Mrs. Hall said the committee to be used for the first time would consist of Tom Bonn, a retired printer; Fred Canaday, a printer and publisher of a newspaper at England, and Kelly Bryant, former state printing clerk.

The contractors will be formally awarded by the State Printing Board, composed of Mrs. Hall and other state officials.

Moslem Riots Leave 80 Dead, 300 Wounded

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

ALGIERS (AP) — Most of Algeria's Moslems returned to work today after a 24-hour general strike and riots during which French forces killed 80 Moslems and wounded about 300.

Some tension remained in outlying areas where emotional Moslems were burying their dead. Troops in Wednesday's trouble spots remained on the alert to put down any demonstrations that might develop during mass funeral services.

Algiers was bustling with activity again. Reports said conditions were normal in other coastal cities and in most of the interior. The French reported six of their men dead and 20 wounded after the violence.

The 24-hour strike, called to protest President Charles de Gaulle's threat to partition Algeria into European and Moslem enclaves, was 90 per cent effective throughout the country and bolstered the exile rebel regime's prestige and bargaining position with the French.

There were mass demonstrations of support in neighboring Tunisia and Morocco. Ferhat Abbas, head of the rebel exile government, told a crowd of Moroccans in Casablanca: "Algeria is one and indivisible. It is not a graveyard cheese which can be carved up."

A high French official in Algiers grimly admitted the disorders "hardly contribute" to the chances of peaceful coexistence between Algeria's nine million Moslems and one million Europeans or to association of an independent Algeria with France.

De Gaulle threatened last week to partition Algeria if no agreement on Algeria's future ties with France is reached. Before Wednesday's violence French officials said peace talks between the French and the rebels, suspended since June 13, probably would resume next week.

Pro-rebel demonstrations became riots in eastern Algeria and half a dozen towns near Algiers. It was one of the most powerful displays of pro-rebel feeling among Algeria's Moslems since the rebellion broke out nearly seven years ago. French officials conceded it showed virtually complete Moslem support for the rebel drive to win independence from France.

Printing Bids Being Opened

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Secretary of State Nancy J. Hall said today that a committee of experts would determine low bids on state printing contracts she and her staff have been tabulating since last Friday.

The bid opening led to a controversy over how the proposals should be handled. Some bidders wanted Mrs. Hall to change the procedure, but she stuck to a system here late husband, Secretary of State C. G. Hall, used for many years.

Mrs. Hall said the committee to be used for the first time would consist of Tom Bonn, a retired printer; Fred Canaday, a printer and publisher of a newspaper at England, and Kelly Bryant, former state printing clerk.

The contractors will be formally awarded by the State Printing Board, composed of Mrs. Hall and other state officials.

Bell Tolls Today for Hemingway

KETCHUM, Idaho. (AP) — Ernest Hemingway, famed author of volumes about death and violence, today was buried in a village cemetery in the peaceful, green Idaho valley he loved.

A group of mourners, mostly members of the family, led by the author's wife, whom he affectionally called "Miss Mary," filed silently into the sunlit cemetery. The Rev. Robert J. Waldmann, pastor of Ketchum's Our Lady of the Snows Roman Catholic Church, spoke briefly about death, said a prayer for the author and then Hemingway's body was lowered in a grey metal casket into a vault.

The Hemingway home overlooks the little valley where the grave was dug Tuesday for the 61-year-old Nobel and Pulitzer prize winner.

Hemingway died Sunday of a shotgun blast in the head. It was ruled self-inflicted. But authorities made no determination as to whether it was accidental or on purpose.

Water Supply Almost Gone in N. Plains Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Northern Wisconsin today was added to the drought-ridden Great Plains area as Minnesota sought addition of 9 more counties to the 24 already declared federal disaster tracts.

In the western Dakotas, stockmen joined crop growers in deep concern over dwindling water supplies and were moving cattle to greener pastures or preparing for their early marketing.

Grasshoppers were added to the drought plague in eastern Montana, where federal-state crop reporting services predicted many fields wouldn't even be harvested. Sen. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis., called for early action by federal authorities to aid farmers in that state's drought area. Unless there is rain soon, Wiley said Wednesday night that farmers all over Wisconsin would be suffering.

Minnesota's Gov. Elmer L. Andersen said the worsening drought was bringing new appeals to his office daily from farmers whose pastures are browned over by the searing sun and whose feed grain crops are wilted.

Granting of the new disaster appeals would place 33 of Minnesota's 87 counties into the emergency category.

In North Dakota, water was drying up in wells, creeks and ponds to threaten stock along the western and southern boundaries. There has been no growth of pastures or wild hay in the western two-thirds for weeks.

With temperatures in the high 80s again, much small grain was reported beyond salvage. But the corn and soybeans in the eastern zones were accorded a chance, assuming some moisture does come. All of North Dakota was declared a disaster area last week.

Western South Dakota cattlemen were reported either moving herds to greener pastures and water or holding dispersal sales, disposing of all but foundation stock.

Charles Gavern, cattle expert with the South St. Paul (Minn.) Commission Co., said the unreasonable marketing forced by the aridity was bound to carry prices downward. But he added that housewives could look for little if any effect on prices they pay for meat, this year at least.

Body Recovered From River

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — The body of James C. Watt, 31, of Hamburg, was recovered early today from the Ouachita River 25 miles east of here.

Watt drowned late Wednesday when his boat hit a partially submerged log and he was thrown into the water. He was returning alone from a camping trip. Nearby fishermen heard Watt's cries for help, but he had gone under before they arrived at the scene.

The Union County coroner's office ruled the drowning accidental.

Spirits Did Speak

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Terse but bespeaking a domestic tragedy was this report of an explosion investigation by Middletown patrolman Howard Watson: "This officer found a bottle of wine had been hidden in the oven of a gas stove. It exploded when the oven was lit and the spirits did speak."

City Plans to Increase Sewer Service Fee

Hope's City Manager Board has served notice that industrial, commercial and residential sewer rates are going to be increased and a hearing has been called for 2:30 p. m., July 17 at City Hall.

An ordinance fixing the following rates has been introduced: Residential — 25¢ of average bill for months of Nov., Dec., Jan., but not less than $1.25 per month.

Commercial and Industrial — 25¢ of average water bill for months of Nov., Dec., Jan., but not less than $1.50 per month.

All rates are net if paid within 10 days but are subject to a five per cent increase if not paid in 10 days.

This comes on the heels of a bond project for the laying of new sewer lines throughout the city. The group at its last meeting sold $210,000 worth of revenue bonds for that purpose. At that time it was indicated the bonds would be paid from current revenue and there would be no new tax. There was no mention of a service fee increase.

Actually there is no base currently being charged for sewer service. The fee runs from 30¢ up. This new minimum would equalize the base and practically in every instance will raise the fee for everyone.

A member of the board said yesterday that districts which are currently paying out their sewage times will not be affected by the new rates.

Persons objecting to the new proposed rates will be given an opportunity to be heard at the July 17 meeting.

CYF to Be in Charge of Services

For the next three Sundays members of the First Christian Church CYF will be responsible for the 5 p. m. vespers. Each year these young people are given frequent opportunity to lead others in worship.

The church realizes the importance of giving such fine training and the youth who participate would like to express public appreciation.

Two members — Sara Mack Garrett and Mary Lou Park — are already part-time organist and pianist respectively, whereas David Pearson is serving as summer choir director.

In addition to the vespers program currently in preparation, CYF has consented to take charge of this Sunday morning worship also.

Speaker at all services is David Pearson, while others participating include Judy Robins, Mary Lou Park, Richard and Carl McMurtrey and Don Oglesby serving as worship leader.

More Than 500 Died in Accidents

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic accidents killed more than 500 persons during the extended Fourth of July weekend, the highest total for any summer holiday period. The final count also showed that the more than 900 persons killed in all types of accidents was an all-time high for any holiday period.

Traffic deaths totaled 509 compared to the previous high of 491 set during a four-day observance of Independence Day in 1959. The toll exceeded the National Safety Council's pre-holiday estimate by 50.

In accidents of all kinds, including traffic, boating, drownings, and the miscellaneous category, 924 persons lost their lives. That figure compares with 884 recorded during a four-day observance of Christmas in 1956. In addition to traffic fatalities during the four day weekend, 63 died in boating accidents, 201 persons were drowned, and 148 others lost their lives in a variety of mishaps.

There is no point in giving the country back to the Indians. They have enough troubles of their own.

Proposals to Increase House Fail

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders have quietly but firmly rejected all proposals to increase the size of the House in order to prevent some states from losing seats because of population declines.

The effect of the decision may be that the House elected in 1962 may contain dozens of members chosen in statewide rather than district voting.

Of the 25 states whose congressional delegations will increase or decrease in the next House if the size of that body is not enlarged, only 13 have enacted redistricting laws. In two of those 13 states the legislative action has not become final.

The others presumably are waiting to see what Congress will do, or have encountered political obstacles in their redistricting efforts. Among them are Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Illinois, with a total of 63 seats in the new Congress if the size of the House is not changed. All may be elected in statewide contests.

Several plans to save some states from losing seats have been proposed in the House but the current outlook is that none of them will get anywhere.

One proposal, by Rep. Frank Chelf, D-Ky., would increase the

Russia, N. Korea Sign Defense Pact

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev announced today the Soviet Union and North Korea have signed a mutual defense pact to counter a growing threat of aggression by South Korea.

He said the recent coup in Seoul established "a regime of open military-Fascist dictatorship."

"The threat from the military-Fascist clique is growing. It is known that this clique has an army of 600,000 equipped with American weapons," Khrushchev added.

"We consider it our duty to warn the aggressive forces that if an attack is made on the Korean Democratic Republic, then the Soviet Union will look upon this attack as an attack upon itself."

Khrushchev made the announcement at a Soviet-Korean friendship meeting in Moscow.

Publication of the pact seemingly means that the U.S.S.R. is openly replacing Communist China as North Korea's chief protector. It was Communist Chinese "volunteers" who intervened in the Korean War. The Soviet Union always claimed it took no part in that fighting, although Soviet-built MIG fighter planes and other weapons were used on the Communist side.

Rocket Causes Little Alarm

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Israel's new space rocket drew headlines in the Arab press here today but the newspaper reacted with less alarm than expected. Some said it should teach the Arab countries a lesson in international cooperation.

Al Jarida noted that the meteorological rocket was sent up Wednesday from a secret Israeli launching pad as Arab countries girded for a fight against Israel's plans to divert Jordan River waters for irrigation.

The Israelis insist the rocket is strictly a scientific tool and not a military weapon, but the leftist Al Shaab noted Israel also has its own nuclear reactor.

size of the House starting in 1963 from the presently fixed 437 to 460. That would not protect any state from losing seats, and at the same time keep the size of congressional districts relatively uniform, would require an increase to more than 500 members.

House leaders consider that number too unwieldy.

Congressional leaders believe that once the state legislatures are convinced that there will be no action by Congress, they will move swiftly with redistricting legislation rather than take political risks when normally accompany state-at-large congressional elections.

In states losing seats, all members must run at-large unless their legislatures enact redistricting law. In those gaining seats, only the added seats would be contested on an at-large basis in the absence of redistricting.

Urges Sincere, Lasting Peace

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII bitterly lamenting Algeria's bloody rioting, today urged leaders of the world to establish a sincere, firm and lasting peace.

The 79-year-old supreme ruler of the Roman Catholic Church said he was saddened by the news of the "cruel killings" in Algeria. He said he prayed they cease.

Pope John, revealing grave anxiety for the situation in the world generally, spoke to members of the Pontifical Commission for the Apostolate of Laymen, one of the bodies preparing for the forthcoming Ecumenical Council of the Roman Catholic Church. Several cardinals, archbishops and bishops were present.

The hot springs, for which the city of Hot Springs, Ark., was named, were believed to have been visited by Hernando DeSoto in 1541. The first settler near the springs built a cabin there in 1807. Two years later John Percival bought the cabin and built others which he rented to visitors who came to bathe in the waters. In 1832 the government set the land aside as a reservation but it was not until 1921 that Hot Springs became officially known as a national park.

Showers Rip Coast, North Plains Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Showers continued today across a broad band from the central plains to the north central Atlantic Coast.

Hail, heavy rain and gusty winds hammered sections of north central and northwest Missouri, Kansas and south central Iowa Wednesday night. More than 3 inches of rain drenched Grinnell, Iowa, and many sections along the Missouri storm belt.

Both Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kan., were hit hard by the severe weather. Telephone and electric service was disrupted and streets and basements were flooded and traffic was curtailed. More than four inches of rain fell in the area.

Two funnel clouds which did not touch ground were sighted a few miles south of Topeka, Kans. Widely scattered showers hit the central and northern Rockies, the Florida Peninsula and along the north Pacific Coast. Mostly fair weather prevailed in other sections of the country.

It was a little chilly again this morning in northern areas east of the Mississippi River. Temperatures ranged from the 40s along the northern border to the 70s south of the Ohio Valley and central Atlantic States with 80s along the Gulf Coast and extreme southern Florida Peninsula.

State Tax Take Sets a New Record

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A record $21,237,218 was collected in state income taxes during the 1960-61 fiscal year which ended June 30, with corporation returns higher than individual returns for the first time in three years.

The state Revenue Department said Wednesday that corporation returns during the fiscal year totaled $10,813,117 while individual returns amounted to $10,456,101.

well-cut and of good material than half a dozen over-trimmed, cheap numbers. Boys judge you first on your appearance. Once you're satisfied with it, take the second step toward acquiring self-confidence—getting along with others. Go where people are. Force yourself to meet them. If introductions fuss you, rehearse imaginary ones in your room. It may sound trite but practice does make perfect. Circulate. Talk—even if only to the butcher, baker or grocer. Care about what happens to them. The more you are interested in others the easier it is to forget self (consciousness). Do some one sport well. Show your enthusiasm for it. Remember, worthwhile interests attract worthwhile friends. But don't make the fatal mistake of being over-serious, especially with the boys. Treat them casually. Be light-hearted. Develop a sense of humor. All this means work and time but it will be worth the struggle when you suddenly discover that you are developing into the popular, well-balanced and happy woman every girl longs to be.

Dear Helen: You think chewing gum in public is a breach of good manners. I chew gum in church to keep from coughing. Would you call that bad-mannered? I call it a health measure, having chewed gum most of my life. I am 71 and feel 50. —Lottie Willmarth, Terre Haute, Indiana

Dear Lottie: How about cough drops in church and gum chewing at home? If only the gum chewers could but see themselves as others see them!

Dear Helen: I just wanted you to know that I received your most friendly and prompt reply to my letter asking help in finding a way to meet someone who needs, and wants me. Dear D. C.: Thank you! Loneliness is hard to take. And yet there are times when the soul craves solitude. I like what Emerson had to say about this: "Solitude with lothes. Better a couple of dresses than a simple,

Church Group Studies Operations

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The United Church of Christ, with its new top officer plucked from a Midwest pulpit, today reviewed its operational strategy, including whether to keep giving funds to segregated institutions.

A proposed resolution asks an examination of the "moral principles involved in financial support of churches and church-related institutions which practice discrimination."

A few colleges in the South related to the church have never admitted Negroes, and some denominational congregations are all white.

The newly merged church, after electing the Rev. Dr. Ben M. Herberster, Norwood, Ohio parish pastor as president, also considered backing "universality of the membership" in the United Nations, inferentially including Red China. A pending resolution, up for action today, said: "Communist systems can not be overcome merely by a policy of isolating Communist nations from the community of nations."

The Russian, Chinese and other people living under Communist governments are also members of God's family.

"We are now called upon to develop strategies for living with these nations, while working earnestly to increase justice. To effect changes where change is needed, and to strengthen all the elements that contribute to peace."

Dr. Herberster, 56, a bespectacled, sandy-haired pastor in Norwood ever since he began preaching 30 years ago, was elected Wednesday by a 513 to 165 vote over the Rev. Dr. James E. Wagner, of Philadelphia, a nationally prominent churchman.

The two-million-member denomination is made up of the Evangelical and Reformed church which Dr. Wagner had headed, and the Congregational Christian churches.

Farmer Calls Russian a 3 Hour Expert

By REINHOLD G. ENS

MOSCOW (AP)—Iowa corn farmer Roswell Garst, an old acquaintance of Nikita Khrushchev, is being described in the Soviet press as a man who doesn't pay his hired hands very much.

"And some of his political ideas were called 'somewhat naive,'" said the official newspaper Rural Life by A. Romanov, one of the Soviet journalists who recently toured the United States at the invitation of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

After a visit to the Garst farm, Romanov wrote: "On his 5,000 acres of land he employs 20 men, who knows well how to handle farm machinery and are real masters in their trade."

"He does not pay them much: $1.10 an hour on weekdays and $1.70 on Sundays. In this respect he acts like a man who knows well the value of money, and takes good care to have every dollar bring him a clear profit of two.

"Besides, a high price is not set in the United States on the labor of those who produce wealth for others."

Romanov approvingly noted that Garst called the arms race a "world craze" but Romanov added: "Some of his views as, for example, the idea of dividing the world into literate and illiterate rings somewhat naive."

In Coon Rapids, Garst called Romanov a "three-hour expert."

He recalled that Romanov visited the farm with a group of other people last May 14.

"He stayed about three hours," said Garst. "Then went home and wrote an article about our farming operations. That would be like me going to the Soviet Union, staying three hours, and writing all about Russia—full of inaccuracies."

He said the Soviet newsman stopped at the farm on a Sunday during corn-planting time.

"We had been rained out for a week before and decided to work that day," Garst said. "Most of the employees he saw were day laborers which we use occasionally throughout the year. Most of

State Youth May Have New Formula

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—John F. Scott is a scientific-minded 16-year-old who may have hit on something big.

The something is a simpler process for making glucose.

The process is far enough along that Scott has received a patent pending notice on it from the U.S. Patent Office. That will enable Scott to attempt to market his idea with federal protection.

Scott, a junior at Hall High School here last term, said the glucose process evolved "purely by accident" while he was experimenting for an exhibit for a school science fair last February.

He said that his is an electrolytic process which produces glucose in one step in contrast to the nine which have been necessary to derive it from corn starch.

He said that tin electrodes are inserted in a mixture of glycerol, sodium carbonate and water with current through the electrodes producing the glucose.

Scott said he had patent attorneys make a search and they couldn't find anything of the same nature, preceding his process.

Commercial glucose, a form of sugar, is used, among other things, in brewing, canning and candy making.

As for the science fair, Scott didn't make it. He devoted his energies instead to perfecting his discovery.

Scott described himself as generally an average student and said he couldn't remember any particular point at which he first realized he had a scientific bent.

He said he plays chess and bridge and swims a lot as hobbies.

Right now he has a summer job in the psychology department of the University Medical Center here.

our employees are permanent, year-round men living in nearby farm homes."

Garst said Romanov was particularly inaccurate about the amount of land he actually owns.

"He not only grouped my land, but also land owned by my sons and some of the farm lands I manage for others," said Garst.

He did not reveal, however, how much land he does claim title to.

Engineer of Train Hits His Own Car

By GEORGE W. WILBUR

SALEM, Va. (AP)—Was it design or destiny that brought Elizabeth Webb Howard to the quiet railroad crossing in this small Virginia town?

The No. 51 Norfolk and Western freight train smashed into the woman's car Wednesday, tearing it apart and hurling Mrs. Howard from the wreckage.

At the controls of the train was her husband, E. O. Howard.

Today Mrs. Howard, 39, lay unconscious in a Roanoke hospital, near death with head, chest and undetermined injuries. The impact of the crash hurled her 90 feet from her shattered car.

Her husband, a train fireman who had temporarily taken over the controls of No. 51 from the regular engineer moments before the crash, was said to be under the care of a private physician and could not be located.

J. N. Dillon, the regular engineer, took No. 51 westward to the end of its run after the crash and his whereabouts were not immediately determined.

Raising the question that something more than chance might have been involved in the crash was Salem Chief of Police George T. Eades.

Eades said Wednesday night the circumstances of the crash were not clear but there was some evidence it "was not an accident."

A note was found in Mrs. Howard's purse, he said, but would not reveal its contents. He declined to say more.

No relatives visited Mrs. Howard at the hospital Wednesday night. She lay deep in a coma. Hospital officials said her condition was "very serious."

Slum Clearance for Two Cities

WASHINGTON (AP)—North Little Rock and Fort Smith, Ark., will receive grants totaling $184,444 to aid in planning slum clearance projects. The Urban Renewal Administration said Wednesday that Fort Smith will receive $100,649 for planning removal of a 130-acre area near the downtown district and North Little Rock will get $75,795 for a 184-acre Shorter College project.

Magnolia Man on Commission

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus Wednesday named R. S. Warnock of Magnolia to the state Oil and Gas Commission and Bert Hudspeth of Harrison to the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission. Hudspeth was named to a seven-year term and Warnock for six years. Faubus also reappointed C. R. Cole of Magnolia to the Oil and Gas Commission and Shelby Ford of Springdale to the state Bank Commission.

Merger Gets Approval of the PSC

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Next move in the planned merger of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. and MidSouth Gas Co. is up to Kansas, Louisiana and federal regulatory agencies and Pulaski Chancery Court.

The Arkansas Public Service Commission approved the merger Wednesday after denying a request to delay action pending a court suit challenging the laws under which it was arranged.

MidSouth stockholder Wiley A. McGhee of McGhee filed the suit opposing the merger, contending among other things that the proposed stock exchange was unfair.

Under the merger approved by the PSC, two shares of MidSouth stock would be exchanged for one share of Arkla stock, with Arkla as the surviving corporation to assume the debts and liabilities of MidSouth.

The commission noted that stockholders have the right to appeal the decision to the courts.

A joint application for approval of the merger was filed with the PSC by Arkla and MidSouth June 8 and a hearing was conducted June 26. Final briefs in the case were filed Monday.

MidSouth operates natural gas distribution facilities in East Arkansas and has its headquarters at Little Rock.

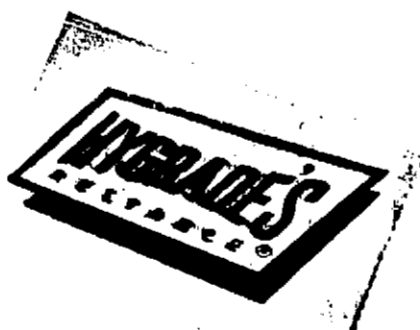

Home offices of Arkla are at Shreveport, La.

Morrilton to Get U. S. Funds

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP)—One of 24 federal grants for use in providing vocational training for mentally retarded students will go to Morrilton, Paul G. Liddicoat, Morrilton school superintendent, said Wednesday. Liddicoat said the federal Office of Education grant is for three years and will include about $24,000 the first year. The funds will be used to conduct special education classes, a testing program and placement service, he said.

McKinley on Top of the Heap Today

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Chuck McKinley, the bad boy of American tennis, was on top of the world today.

The fiery 20-year-old star from St. Louis, released from suspension only six weeks ago, slammed his way into the Wimbledon men's final Wednesday and was hailed as the most colorful personality in this year's tournament. He delighted the crowds with his energy, retrieving and speed.

McKinley, the first native American finalist since 1953, will meet Rod Laver of Australia for the cup Friday. Today, the women take the stage with Sandra Reynolds of South Africa playing Britain's Angela Mortimer and Renee Schuurman of South Africa meeting England's Christine Truman in the semifinals.

"I can't tell you how much this success means to me," McKinley said after he had blasted Britain's Mike Sangster 6-4, 6-4, 6-4 to gain Friday's final against Australian Rod Laver. Laver beat Ramanathan Krishnan of India, 6-2, 3-6, 6-2.

"That suspension upset me a lot. I meant missing the U.S. indoor championships, and I had set my heart on winning that. When I was banned from playing, it upset my confidence and set back my game."

The U.S. Lawn Tennis Association suspended McKinley because he threw his racket during a Davis Cup match last winter.

PROPOSED RAIL COMBINATION—Merging of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway and the Baltimore and Ohio would create a network blanketing the New York-to-Virginia area in the East and much of the Midwest. Proponents of the affiliation which would lead to the eventual merger claim that there would be less dislocation of jobs and facilities because the roads are "end-to-end" systems rather than "parallel."

Apartments May Open to Negroes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several Washington real estate owners offered today to open large luxury apartment buildings to Negro diplomats in response to an appeal from President Kennedy.

Harris Wofford, special assistant to the President, conveyed Kennedy's views to a closed meeting of Washington real estate leaders called by the State Department to curb housing discrimination against African diplomats in the nation's capital.

A plea on behalf of the State Department was made by under secretary Chester Bowles.

Kennedy's protocol chief, Angier Biddle Duke, reported that the real estate owners had shown a "most cooperative and positive attitude" toward easing the discrimination, which Kennedy believes is giving Uncle Sam a bad name around the world.

Racial snubs against Negroes in this semi-Southern city are of increasing concern to the Kennedy administration as new African countries send envoys here in growing numbers. The Communists are ardently wooing the new nations and point to discrimination in America, especially in the federal capital, as evidence of U.S. hypocrisy.

S. Korea Jails Ousted Premiers

By ALAN CLINE

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—South Korea's two ousted premiers, John M. Chang and Lt. Gen. Chang Do-young, have been arrested with several former government and military officials, competent sources said today.

The ruling military junta refused comment on the reports.

Chang, the elected premier ousted in the May 16 military coup, was reported by informants to have been taken from his home Wednesday to Mapo Prison. He had been under house arrest since the coup. Six of Chang's Democratic party ministers also were said to have been taken from their homes, where they had been under detention, to the same prison.

Other reports said Brig. Gen. Song Chan-ho, Col. Park Chi-ot, Lt. Col. Kim Jai-min, three junta members forced to resign Monday, also were jailed.

Chang Do-young disappeared after he was ousted Monday by Maj. Gen. Pak Chung-hi, new chairman of the junta's ruling Supreme Council.

Caroline Is Saved From Drowning

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Evening Star said today a young matron jumped fully clothed into a swimming pool last Thursday to pull out Caroline Kennedy about to sink in water over her head.

The story by Betty Beale named Mrs. William Saltonstall, daughter-in-law of Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., as the rescuer of the President's three-year-old daughter.

As for Caroline, the story said "her only reaction was one of surprise. She did express some wonderment that Mrs. Saltonstall should be in the pool with all her clothes on."

Asked about the episode as reported by the Star, White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said:

"It's true, but I don't have any of the details yet."

Mrs. Saltonstall, when called by an Associated Press reporter, said, "I was the one who jumped in." She declined to discuss the matter further.

The Star story related:

"Three-year-old Caroline, along with a group of her friends, was attending the third birthday party of Ivan Steers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Newton I. Steers Jr. Mrs. Steers is the former Nina Auchincloss daughter of Hugh D. Auchincloss who is Mrs. John F. Kennedy's stepfather."

"The party was held on the spacious grounds of the Steers residence at 6601 River Road, Bethesda, Md."

"Six or seven mothers and their small children were present at the gathering that also included two or three nurses and their charges."

"The President's daughter had been accompanied to the party by a Secret Service man who was on duty at the entrance to the grounds and by a relief nurse who takes Caroline out when her regular nurse, Miss Maud Shaw, is looking after her infant brother, John Jr."

"Mrs. Saltonstall had only time to prepare her children for the Schools Owe $105 Millions

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Total indebtedness of Arkansas' 419 school districts stood at $105.6 million on June 30, an increase of $11.8 million over the same date a year ago.

The total was shown in the annual report of the Education Department's Bond Service Division, issued today.

Five districts have a debt exceeding the legal limit of 15 per cent of total assessed valuation, the report showed, while 12 districts are free of debt.

Exceeding the legal limit is permissible if the district converts its school bonds to a higher principal with a lower interest rate. And the 1961 Legislature raised the limit to 18 per cent in districts which must issue bonds to rebuild facilities destroyed by fire or natural disaster.

The report showed 41 districts with a debt ratio of 10 to 15 per cent and 135 with a ratio from one to five per cent.

pool when she suddenly heard one of the mothers say, 'Is she all right?'

She looked over toward the pool and saw Caroline in the middle of the pool alone, holding onto a board raft. But even as she looked the raft flipped away from Caroline's hand and she started to go down. The water was four feet deep there, over her head.

"Without any thought of her own condition, Mrs. Saltonstall, whose third child is expected in two and a half months, ran to the pool and jumped in before the other parents and nurses had fully taken in the situation."

"Unknown to the other adults, Caroline's nurse had gone into the house to change into her bathing suit."

"By the time Mrs. Saltonstall got to Caroline the little girl had gone under. However, when she pulled her up the youngster seemed unaware of what had happened. Her only reaction was one of surprise. She did express some wonderment that Mrs. Saltonstall should be in the pool with all her clothes on."

1st Half of Year Kind of Headache

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first half of 1961 was a kind of aspirin for a headache that won't go away. We are now fresh out of aspirins.

Up till June 30 President Kennedy's administration had—comparatively—a delightful time with both Congress and the Russians.

In Congress, where he lacks enough support to sail his programs through as he asks, he used two simple but adroit methods to get what he wanted:

1. For the most part he offered very moderate programs which, by their nature, avoided violent opposition; differences with members of Congress on various points but not on fatal programs.

2. He used pressure, persuasion and concessions by himself and members of his White House staff to win over such opposition as he had. This has been a very smooth operation. Kennedy's own 15 years in Congress made him expert on this.

The result was a big batch of legislation which—if that had been all that was involved—would have given him a very successful

Crowds Greet Old Soldier on Return

BY DON HUTH

MANILA (AP)—Huge crowds stood for hours in drenching monsoon rains today to catch a glimpse of General of the Army Douglas MacArthur as he retraced the route his troops took to liberate Manila from the Japanese in World War II.

It was the fourth straight day that Filipinos have poured out their affection for the 81-year-old soldier, here on a sentimental visit for 10 days.

School children stood under banana leaves or palm fronds clanks as the rain poured down. They cheered every car that drove past. When the autos carried Americans, they yelled "Hi, Joe," as Filipinos did to welcome American troops 16 years ago.

Filipinos normally are friendly and sentimental people, but on no occasion have they ever turned out to greet a foreigner with the enthusiasm that MacArthur has received. The visit was reminiscent of the reception the late President Ramon Magsaysay used to receive on his trips to the provinces.

shattered the block with a slap of the edge of the hand.

The Marine, undaunted, had the hand treated, then returned for the next show and shattered the two-inch building block—with his other hand.

Hot Topics Around Arkansas

By BOB MARING Associated Press Staff Writer

Vicksburg has fallen. The attack on Helena failed. Little Rock may be threatened.

Those were the hot topics of conversation 99 years ago. In July of 1863, fresh of the minds of Arkansas were the siege of Vicksburg and the unsuccessful attempt to rout the federals from Helena.

Both occurred on July 4, 1863. Vicksburg, besieged for months, finally gave in even as a Confederate force under Gen. T. H. Holmes moved against Helena with the idea of forcing Union forces to divert troops from the beleaguered Mississippi city.

The Helena attack was opposed by Gen. Sterling Price, who later won fame for a raid into Missouri. But Holmes overruled him. "This is my fight," Holmes wrote Price. "I intend to attack Helena immediately and capture the place if possible. If I fail, I am willing to bear the odium."

The march on Helena began June 22 at Jacksonport, near Newport. Nearly 5,000 Confederate troops were assembled for the assault.

But conditions were unfavorable from the start. Mud and water covered the 30-mile route. In places soldiers waded waist deep and dragged wagons through swamps or lowlands. Swollen streams had to be crossed on makeshift bridges.

It took 12 days to reach the Helena area. But by July 3 the force was in position four miles from Helena.

Price still opposed the attack but again was overruled by Holmes.

Holmes directed Price's command to assault the center fort of three which guarded Helena. Gen. J. S. Marmaduke was to hit the northern fort, Gen. James F. Fagan the southern one.

The attacks began at daylight. Price's troops charge with fixed bayonets and overran the federals. But heavy artillery fire held back Fagan, and Marmaduke's force also failed. Holmes then tried to assault the southern fort from the rear, but gunboat fire smashed this advance.

And Price's force had to be withdrawn from its exposed position.

Six hundred Confederates were lost in the battle—killed or wounded. Another 400 were prisoners when Holmes began the march back toward Little Rock.

The federal commander at Helena, Gen. Samuel R. Curtis, then sent Gen. Frederick Steele against Little Rock. Steele left Helena about a month after the Confederate defeat. Skirmishes along the way held up his advance temporarily, but on Sept. 10, 1863, after one final clash, his troops moved into Little Rock.

Price, a veteran of the Confederate victory at Pea Ridge March 7, 1862, in which Curtis was the federal commander, succeeded Holmes in command. Fagan was Price's second in command in the last major activity in Arkansas.

Officials See Russia, China Rift

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top U.S. officials were reported convinced today that a serious dispute has broken out again between the leaders of the two greatest Communist powers, Russia and Red China.

The argument could have a profound impact on Soviet handling of East-West crisis issues, particularly Berlin and Laos.

Western authorities are trying to get at the real facts of the controversy and thus establish a basis for judging what its effect on future Sino-Soviet policies may be.

The most authentic evidence of the quarrel known to U.S. State Department experts is the fact that the Soviet leadership sent a high-level delegation to Ulan Bator last week to represent Moscow at the 14th anniversary of the Mongolian Communist party. But Soviet Premier Khrushchev, at the same time, virtually ignored the far more important 40th anniversary of the Chinese Communist party.

This snub, U.S. experts say, is unmistakable proof if very severe differences between Moscow and Peking. The cause of the current argument is not known, but it is assumed to be along the familiar lines of recent years—the Red Chinese favoring tough, expansionist policies for international Communism, with a risk of nuclear war; the Russians favoring a more cautious policy under the label of "peaceful co-existence."

Top Kennedy administration officials were deeply interested in an article published in the Times in London last Sunday. This article by Isaac Deutscher, a long-time student of Soviet affairs, reported that Khrushchev had circulated among foreign Communist parties a letter denouncing Red Chinese policies.

In Deutscher's article, it was reported that Khrushchev had accused the Red Chinese Communists under Mao Tse-Tung of violating an international Communist agreement, made last November at Moscow, which represented a compromise on expansionist policies between Soviet and Red Chinese attitudes.

Highly placed officials said today the United States had no independent evidence to confirm the existence of such a Khrushchev message. Obviously efforts are being made to obtain a copy of the document if it exists, officials said. But in high quarters here there was considerable skepticism today about the reported document.

AMA Against Authority of U. S. Agency

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Medical Association vigorously protested today against giving a government agency authority to pass on the usefulness of drugs.

It said the effect of this provision in the drug industry anti-trust act introduced by Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., would be "to limit research, the marketing of drugs, and the exercise of discretion by the medical profession."

The AMA's position was set forth by Dr. Hugh H. Husey, Jr., of Washington, chairman of its board of trustees, at the start of hearings on the legislation by the Senate Anti-trust and Monopoly subcommittee.

Kefauver, the subcommittee chairman, said in an opening statement that the public's patience "with price-gauging in drugs is wearing thin" and that the people will demand direct government controls unless Congress acts along what he termed the "relatively moderate" lines proposed in his bill.

Kefauver said his bill would encourage competition and thus reduce medicine prices without resorting to direct federal control over drug prices.

The measure is the product of nearly two years of investigation matter of FACT

Some people need to get OFF the water wagon. Medical researchers recently turned up cases of people who made themselves drunk by imbibing too much water. They get the same symptoms as people who have too much alcohol. And for the same reason. The water dilutes the blood so that less oxygen is carried to the brain. Why are there compulsive water drinkers? Probably for the same psychological reasons we have alcoholics.

by the subcommittee.

The investigation caused a partisan split among the subcommittee's members. The Democratic majority handed down a report last week accusing large drug manufacturers of abuses, including excessive pricing. Republican members called the

Suggests UN Monitor U. S. Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United Nations should be invited to monitor and inspect a limited program of U.S. underground nuclear tests for peaceful purposes, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., suggested today.

He also proposed turning over majority report a biased and unfair monstrosity, contending it was based on testimony from prejudiced witnesses.

Key provisions of Kefauver's bill would:

1. Give the Food and Drug Administration broad new powers to license the manufacture of drugs and revoke the licenses for cause.
2. Restrict the use of patent agreements covering the production of new prescription medicines.
3. Require FDA to test and approve new medicine products, ride herd on advertising claims for medicines, and force clear warnings concerning any possible harmful side effects of medicines. He charges such advertising "is often misleading and sometimes downright false."
4. Require simplification of the official names of drugs, with the idea of encouraging doctors to prescribe medicines by the official names instead of brand names.

to the United Nations the data and results of such tests.

Humphrey, assistant Senate Democratic leader and chairman of the Senate Disarmament subcommittee, said in a statement that U.N. inspection of the tests would give the Soviet Union "a clear alternative to the impasse which now exists in the test ban negotiations."

"Its delegates may vote to join this project of testing for peaceful purposes or face the censure of world opinion by voting against our resolution."

Humphrey stressed he was not suggesting a resumption of military nuclear tests.

Yesterday Hottest

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The temperature reached 96 at Little Rock Tuesday afternoon hottest day the capital city has had this far this year. The mercury had dipped to 50 degrees early Tuesday tying the low record set for the date in 1924.

Perry County, suggested it be delayed several months. Van Dalsem said he advised the governor against holding a special session to draw up a state construction program while there are so many different views on what should be done.

Izard County Rep. John E. Miller and Pulaski Rep. Glenn Walther also met with the governor today.

Faubus has said he expects to call the special session around Aug. 1 unless legislators feel they need more time to study the state's fiscal situation.

Miller said he proposed a small tax to finance construction at the University of Arkansas and seven state colleges. Walther declined to reveal details of his plan but said it would be a long-range program.

Van Dalsem, Miller and Walther all said they oppose a plan advanced by Sultana County Rep. Virgil T. Fletcher who wants to save $13.5 million by eliminating budget increases and put that money with surplus funds to create a construction fund of more than $30 million.

"There is no need for the college presidents to expect this Legislature to appropriate their funds from surplus," Van Dalsem said. Faubus indicated he will ask allocation of surplus money for building at the State Hospital and the Children's Colony.

Van Dalsem said he expects the Blind and Deaf Schools and National Guard armories to get some of the surplus money.

Van Dalsem said he doubts if the people will support any kind of bond issue—even one smaller than the $60 million proposal defeated June 27. Walther said a smaller bond issue might get a favorable vote if it were properly explained.

Asked what he thinks of the various plans, Faubus said, "I'm listening. I think the wisest thing I could do right now is to shut my mouth and listen."

Faubus stamped hard for the $60 million bond proposal.

Various construction plans have been proposed by several others, among them Columbia County Rep. Harry B. Cotay and former Gov. Ed McMath.

Beans & Franks Take To Curry

For the British, living in India during the 19th century was a challenge. Yet there were outstanding memories such as "curry". Ceremony surrounded this dinner as young boys carried in the "sambals" or extras for the curried dish. If the sambals were few, the dinner was referred to as a 3-boy curry. If elaborate you could count on a 9-boy curry. While this ceremony has never been known to Americans, it would be fun to try. We do know and like curry and in 20th century style use it readily in many convenience foods such as canned beans & franks.

Tonight, why not plan a 2- or 3-boy curry (girls included) around a casserole of piping hot beans & franks. How everyone goes for these beans in their rich, flavorful tomato sauce. And the franks...

husky and juicy... are just waiting to be counted. Yes, you'll find 9 snuggled in among the beans. With a whiff of curry permeating the air and a variety of "sambals" served by the youngsters, you'll soon be the "Mother with the mostest" at mealtime.

The recipe is:

Indian Beans & Franks
1 small onion, thinly sliced
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 teaspoon curry powder
1 can (1 pound) beans & franks
in tomato sauce
Garnishes: chopped apple or celery, shredded coconut, crushed pineapple, orange sections, sweet pickle relish

Cook onion in butter until tender. Blend in curry powder; cook a few seconds longer. Add beans & franks. Heat, stirring now and then. Garnish with any of the above garnishes. Makes 2 to 2 servings.

General Says Next War Could Destroy

By DON HUTH

MANILA (AP)—General of the Army Douglas MacArthur told the Philippine Congress today scientific advancement in the development of military weapons "has destroyed the possibility of war being a medium for the practical settlement of international differences."

"Global war has become a Frankenstein to destroy both sides," said the 61-year-old leader of World War II and the Korean War.

"No longer is it a weapon of adventure—the short cut to international power. If you lose you are annihilated. If you win, you stand only to lose."

"No longer does it possess even the chance of the winner of a duel—it contains now only the germs of double suicide."

MacArthur's appearance before the cheering Congress was the high spot of the third day of return to the Philippines after 15 years. Filipino enthusiasm for their World War II liberator continued without letup.

The old soldier once more in effect criticized former President Harry Truman and other political leaders during the Korean War for not letting him carry the United Nations offensive to Red Chinese territory.

"With victory in our grasp," said MacArthur, "and without the use of the atom bomb—which we needed no more than against Japan—we failed to see it through."

"Had we done so we would have destroyed Red China's capability of waging modern war for generations to come. Our failure to win that war was a major disaster for the free world."

"Its fatal consequences are now increasingly being felt in the military rise of Red China into a mighty colossus which threatens all of Asia and bids fair to emerge as the balance of military power in the world. This would jeopardize freedom on all continents."

Before his speech to Congress, MacArthur lunched with more than 2,500 of his Filipino World War II comrades and received another affectionate outpouring from the men who had served with him in the Philippines and

Miss Becall Is Married in Mexico

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Thwarted by legal red tape in previous attempts to wed, actor Jason Robards and actress Lauren Bacall, widow of Humphrey Bogart, are man and wife today.

They were wed in a civil ceremony Tuesday in the Mexican coastal town of Ensenada.

But the newlyweds couldn't enjoy a honeymoon—because Robards had to appear for work at a studio today. Instead they motored back to Hollywood.

Robards, a New York stage actor, and Miss Bacall first tried to marry last month in Vienna but were unable to provide legal proof of Robards' eligibility.

Another attempt was frustrated in Las Vegas, Nev., last Saturday night. The marriage bureau said the refusal of a license was related to the Mexican divorce of Robards' second wife, Rachel, obtained May 22 in Juarez, Mexico.

Nevada honors some, but not all, Mexican divorces. Robards listed his age as 38, Miss Bacall 36.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Kuwait put in a formal request today to be heard in the U.N. Security Council debate on its complaint that Iraq is threatening the newly independent oil-rich sheikdom.

The request was made in advance of a council meeting at 3 p.m. The council took up Kuwait's complaint at an extraordinary session Sunday, then adjourned until today.

Hemingway Ran Out of Fun in Life

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ernest Hemingway's people confronted death as something not to be postponed, as Hector in Homer's Iliad did when he stopped running to face Achilles, armed but without hope.

Hemingway said 26 years ago, long before illness overtook him, "I must write because if I do not write a certain amount I do not enjoy the rest of my life."

It is a reasonable guess the prospect of years of invalidism, or at least marginal vitality, took the joy out of life for him.

This may be to simple for future analysts seeking the meaning of the shotgun blast which killed him last Sunday. You can almost read them now:

That his concern with death, which dominated all he wrote, meant he was obsessed with fear of it and that he sought to buy time through the years by marching character after character to inevitable doom as a substitute for himself.

The literary pigeon-fanciers who like cooing or a message mumbled him. But he was no soft-sayer, he used words like rocks, and, in the beginning he had no message.

Maxwell Geismar once wrote that Hemingway's people "act as if thought is unthinkable." This was true. He was an artist, writing about the muscles of the heart, not the capillaries of the brain.

The muscles got tired as he grew older. His best work was his early work: the short stories, "The Sun Also Rises," "A Farewell to Arms," some parts of "Death in the Afternoon," some parts of "To Have and Have Not."

It was downhill after that—although for him was up on the mountain for most of his contemporaries—as if he had listened too much to the critics who wanted a message, who said he had no social consciousness.

In those early days he showed none of it. Why should he have? He was an artist writing about people in trouble as he saw them, without moral judgments. He had one measuring rod: to write "truly." It was his own word.

But no one can ever really understand—perhaps feel is a better word—what Hemingway really meant to American literature unless he was alive and young in those middle 1920s when Hemingway's work began.

The woods were full of literary frauds and second-raters who played it cute and safe, wrote strictly for bucks, suffered from Victorian anemia, or pumped out sex-shockers which disappeared in the garbage can.

There were some honest men writing, like Theodore Dreiser and Sherwood Anderson, who tried to cut new roads with stories about the world as they saw it themselves, but Dreiser was clumsy and Anderson was sentimental.

Then Hemingway, who used his ears to listen and not to keep his hat off his chin, broke through to write about talk as it's spoken and life as it is. He wrote to write and not for money. He made no concessions.

He did it with enormous self-discipline and economy in language and emotion. He created a yardstick by which those coming after him had to be measured. At his worst he was a giant.

Perhaps the future will decide his greatest contribution was not his style (which sometimes became a caricature of itself) or his ear (which wasn't always good) but his honesty above all in a field where it's a cinch to cheat.

Girl Shows Too Much Interest

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Dear Pavement Plato: Recently you wrote on how to tell if a girl is losing interest in you. I think I have just the opposite problem. My girl is showing so much interest in me I am afraid she wants me to marry her. How can I be sure?"

Doubtful

Nothing could be simpler, my boy. She is probably a talent scout for matrimony—and has picked you as her number one target—if:

Her father keeps offering you his car so you can take her riding. She always carries a needle and thread in her purse—just in case you should need a button sewn on. She would rather drink beer at a ball game with you than go dancing at a night club with Cary

Grant.

She starts making remarks such as, "Some girls like real expensive engagement rings, but I think that's a waste of money, don't you?"

When you tell a funny story at a party, she chuckles even before you reach the punch line.

She begins to take a kindly interest in your money. For example: "You're too generous for your own good, dear. You didn't have to tip the waiter that much."

Instead of asking for the latest romantic ogle at the lending library, she checks out the latest cook book.

She proudly shows you a new burn on her finger and says, "I got it in the kitchen last night trying out a new recipe." (Where does she think you thought she got it anyway—sliding down a rope ladder from the Brooklyn Bridge?)

Your hair is falling out, but instead of kidding you she says "I just love your high forehead. It's a sign of intellect."

You're a bit on the plump side but, instead of advising you to go on a diet or visit a gym, she

WALDO'S REVENGE

By LESTER ARNO

Tonight was the 40th anniversary of Waldo Weinmeister's appointment as Room Service (food and beverage) clerk at the Brumleigh Arms Apartment Hotel.

Waldo was not congratulated on his many years of service; not a soul even acknowledged his presence. Like his shabby desk, his old-fashioned upright telephone, the unshaded light bulb that glared above him, Waldo was a fixture to be taken for granted at the Brumleigh Arms.

The lobby had been redone, the apartments redecorated, the kitchen modernized, a new canopy hung under a new electric sign in front of the hotel—but Room Service and Waldo Weinmeister had been ignored.

In a way, it was really Waldo's fault. He had never raised his voice in complaint, never dropped a note in the suggestion box, never deviated from the pattern he had set 40 years ago. He arrived promptly at 5 p.m., sighs, "My, you're so much fun to snuggle with. I hate skinny men." When you admire her new frock, she shrugs and says modestly, "It's just a little thing I made myself."

She can't stand the cigars other men smoke, but "yours are different somehow—they smell so manly."

Instead of a $1.39 necktie, she buys you an expensive fishing rod for your birthday.

Brother, if this is the way any girl in your life is acting, it's time to run for the hills or walk to the marriage license bureau—depending on how strong you feel.

Says Arkla Passed Loss to Customers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Cities protesting Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co.'s $1.2 million annual rate increase charged today that the company passed a $961,000 loss in promotion of gas appliances on to its customers.

The charge was made by Harry Wadsworth, an El Dorado certified public accountant hired by the cities to help them fight the rate increase.

Wadsworth was the first witness at a hearing before the Public Service Commission after PSC Chairman Lewis Robinson overruled a motion by El Dorado City Atty. James Spencer that the company's rate case be dismissed on a technicality.

Spencer said Arkla failed to comply with commission regulations in filing its application for the rate increase.

Robinson said he felt the case should be decided on its merits rather than be ruled out on a technicality.

"You can take care of this matter on appeal if you want to," he told Spencer.

Wadsworth introduced into the record figures purporting to show the Arkla earned over 171 per cent on invested capital last year instead of less than six per cent as the company claims.

Arkla boosted its minimum bill in 52 cities from $1.10 to $1.30 on April 1 while the present case was pending the co.

The PSC could order refunds if it finds the increase was not justified.

Today's session was the latest in a series on the case before the commission.

Nearly 50 percent of the total revenue expended on the public schools in Arkansas for the year, 1954-55 was supplied through the state aid; a greater percentage than that of 34 other states, according to the National Education Association.

pulled the string that lighted the overhanging bulb, set out his pencils and his Room Service order pads and prepared himself for the abuse, complaints and dressing-downs that were to follow.

Such was the nature of Waldo Weinmeister's life's work.

Room Service in an exclusive apartment hotel peopled by the well-to-do consists of taking orders over the telephone, communicating them to the chef and then checking out the Room Service tables as the waiters wheeled them past the desk toward the service elevator.

It sounds like a matter-of-fact job, but it wasn't.

First, there were the substitutions on the table d'hôte dinner, despite the printing on the menu which plainly read:

"NO SUBSTITUTIONS ON TABLE D'HOTE DINNERS."

Then there were the appetite peculiarities of the various tenants. Those who wanted their steaks burned to a crisp; those who wanted their steaks barely to nod to the fire; those who wanted their milk warmed; those who insisted on no ice in their water glasses: the list was infinite.

Then there were the telephone complaints after the waiter had brought the food to the apartments.

Waldo sighed.

He received no gratuities as did the waiters, he got no Christmas presents as did the chef, he was not warmed by the smiles of patrons as was the dining room headwaiter. No, none of these acts of human kindness came his way.

Instead, for 40 years, his ear was bent and beaten by indignant callers, impatient customers, irate tenants.

And here he was . . . "celebrating" his 40th year on the job.

It wasn't until Mrs. Thomas George LaMont, 111, appeared in person at the office of the manager that anyone at the Brumleigh Arms knew that anything was wrong.

Mrs. LaMont quivered at the manager's cheery greeting. Then, she took the dish she held in her hand and threw its contents in the manager's face.

"Snails in aspic, indeed, Mr. Gladson. If this is the Brumleigh Arms' idea of a joke, I am moving out! You know the very sight of snails makes me deathly ill!"

No one on the bus paid the slightest attention to Waldo Weinmeister as he sat, a list in his hand, laughing softly to himself.

Mr. Wharton, 14A, likes his steak very rare. Burn it to a crisp," he read from his notes.

"Mrs. Johnson, 12B, hates mashed potatoes and gravy. Send her double portion with extra gravy? Mr. Martin, 21C, allergic to shrimps. Send up double shrimp cocktail, covered with napkin."

Waldo Weinmeister continued to read and continued to chuckle.

Then, in a crisp, authoritative voice, he said to all on the bus who might listen, "Now, they'll know who Waldo Weinmeister is!"

Youth Held for Slaying a Woman

CISCO, Tex. (AP) — Officers held Nathan Curry, a neat, serious appearing teen-ager, in jail today in the slaying of Mrs. Florence Hussey, 33, a deeply religious church secretary. Mayor John H. Webb said Curry, 15, admitted the killing.

County Attorney Earl Conner said the boy led officers to a bronze flowerpot, a missing clue in the bizarre case. The pot was used to crush Mrs. Hussey's head.

The youth's mother, Mrs. F. P. Curry, said her son told her Tuesday about the slaying and quoted him as saying, "I couldn't help it."

The youth's father is a grocer. Mrs. Curry said their son had been suffering migraine headaches and was in what she called a "groggy" condition.

Mrs. Hussey's stabbed and beaten body, clad only in a sheer nightgown, was found in her home last Thursday by the Rev. Jesse Casse, pastor of the First Baptist Church where she had worked.

Grocery Chain Owner Killed

BAXTER SPRINGS, Kan. (AP) — Ted C. Edens, president and general manager of Karbe's, Inc., a grocery chain, was killed today in an automobile accident.

Chief of Police Percy Brown said Edens' young daughter, about 4, was in his car when it started rolling backward down the driveway at the Edens home.

Edens ran to get in the car and was pinned between it and another car parked in a nearby street. Brown said Edens' father-in-law, Floyd Anders, and two sons were in the driveway and were brushed by the car.

Edens had been with Karbe's for 34 years and had been president and general manager for about two years.

four years. Her Bible was near her body.

An autopsy disclosed Mrs. Hussey was not sexually molested. Nor was she robbed. Her purse held $50 and her car was in the driveway of the neat frame house she rented a few weeks before her death.

Kennedy Back From Holiday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy flew back today from a holiday weekend at his Cape Cod home to pick up on a full-time basis the labors he couldn't completely drop even for the fourth of July.

The presidential jet landed at Andrews Air Force Base in near-Maryland at 10:22 a.m. EDT after a one-hour flight from Otis Air Force Base.

Mrs. Kennedy stayed behind, not planning to return to Washington until next week when she and the President will entertain President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan during his state visit. The children, 3-year-old Caroline and 7-month-old John, may remain still longer.

The family plans suggested Kennedy may quit Washington's heat again next weekend for a seashore break.

The U. S. ballistic missile base construction program will use enough structural steel to build 26 Empire State Buildings, concrete to construct seven Pentagons and power to light a city of 250,000 people.

Fryers, Beef Top Market Specials

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Supermarket advertisements take on a more normal summer look this week with frying chickens crowding beef for top billing.

Low prices for steaks and roasts have enabled beef to force chickens aside in recent weeks, but this week chickens are tops in New England, the Middle Atlantic States and Midwest. Quotations of 33-36 cents a pound at one chain's New York metropolitan area stores are 3 to 6 cents less than a year ago.

Steaks still are the No. 1 attraction in many areas. Sirloin and porterhouse are on the bill in the East, round steaks in the Detroit area and rib steaks around Chicago.

Leg of lamb is featured in New England and the Midwest. Fish items are confined largely to scallops and halibut.

Egg prices continue to climb. Advances run from 2 to 4 cents a dozen this week, leaving prices 4 to 8 cents above year-ago levels.

A considerable number of fresh vegetables and fruits are available. New arrivals include New Jersey carrots, onions and peppers; New York currants, strawberries, broccoli and spinach; Connecticut cabbage, cauliflower and lettuce; Pennsylvania beans and cauliflower; South Carolina watermelons and regular plum-type tomatoes from Virginia.

Best buys among vegetables are beets, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, celery, endive, escarole, miscellaneous leafy cooking greens including spinach, radishes, squash and green onions.

Good buys include beans, corn, cucumbers, eggplant, mushrooms, onions, parsley, peas, watercress, and peppers.

Fruits are especially numerous. Limes, mangoes, lemons, plums, apricots and nectarines are rated as outstanding buys and the "good" buy table adorn watermelon, large avocados, blueberries, cantaloups, honeydew melons, grapes, sour cherries, peaches, raspberries, strawberries and small California oranges.

Made Money by Reviving Monsters

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

LONDON (AP) — Hollywood would call Col. Jimmy Carreras a Piccadilly Sam Katzman. By any name he is one of the top successes of the English film world, having built an empire out of vampires, Frankenstein and assorted monsters.

Col. Carreras—the rank is real—is founder and ruler of Hammer Films, which picked up where Katzman and other sharp Hollywood operators left off.

It all started with "The Curse of Frankenstein" in 1955. Carreras plucked the old bogymen out of public domain and made the film for 100,000 pounds—$200,000. Thrill-seekers, especially in the United States, flocked to it. Profit: $1.4 millions.

Knowing a good thing when he sees it, Carreras wheeled out Dracula, the Mummy, the Abominable Snowman and other horrors to vast success. He has deals to produce films for both Columbia and Universal. He maintains control by financing half of each movie.

Carreras operates from Hammer House in the film district of Wardour Street. I found him at his desk, bronzed from a Riviera holiday.

Like mist film executives, he enjoyed talking. "We make gimmick pictures, really. The title is the thing. When you have a title like Frankenstein or Dracula, that's bigger than anyone could put in it. "Names don't mean a thing, except in the United States.

"We've got a formula for our pictures. We make them in color, with class, but sensibly priced. They're paid for in the British market; the rest of the world is like squeezing the orange.

"We make six a year. If four hit, we're lucky. They'll pay for the others.

"Our story readers have a list of do's and don'ts. They can look on the list and see if a script is for us.

"Above all, we watch the prize. If a picture goes 300 pounds over budget, there is a major inquest."

That Old Car Followed Him

MALVERN, Ark. (AP)—Dennis Wheat bought a new car in 1950 and traded it in reluctantly for a newer model in 1955. Several days ago Wheat saw the car on a lot and tried to buy it, but it had already been sold. Wheat attended a drive-in movie Tuesday night and won a fishing car given as a prize. It was his old automobile.

Pack A Salad Of Barbecue Beans!

With the Civil War centennial spurring greater travel, you're probably following the call to the open road now that summer is here. No matter what direction you head... north, south, east, or west... you'll find many wonderful things to see. Among the "things to be packed" will be your camera to snap historical sites or the beauties of nature, maps to guide the way and most important of all... the picnic basket.

No matter where you decide on, you're sure to find a picnic area. It's reported that in 1,370 cities in the USA there are 10,333 picnic areas. Many of these spots have lighted areas for evening recreation and outdoor eating. Pleasurable, indeed. Fill your picnic basket with foods that will satisfy outdoor appetites. Sure to please all... children especially... are canned beans. Try canned barbecue beans made into a crunchy salad and kept deliciously cool "en route" in a wide-mouth vacuum bottle. Carry the greens in a plastic container and assemble the salad at the picnic spot.

Start your "on the road" menu with mugs of hot sipping soup, tomato, beef broth, consomme, from vacuum bottles. Round it out with sliced ham and cheese sandwiches, and fresh fruit.

Crunchy Barbecue Bean Salad
1 can (1 pound) barbecue beans
1/2 cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
Chilled salad greens

Combine all ingredients, except salad greens. Chill. Serve on bed of salad greens. Makes 8 to 4 servings.

State Has No Armory Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas doesn't have funds to match federal grants for construction of National Guard armories at Lincoln, Lake Village, Dermott and Harrison, state Adjutant Gen. Sherman T. Clinger said Tuesday.

Clinger said he had notified the National Guard Bureau in Washington of the money shortage and asked that no federal money be diverted from Arkansas until a special session of the Legislature has an opportunity to act.

State money for armory construction was appropriated by the 1961 Legislature in the so-called omnibus law, later ruled unconstitutional by the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Clinger said he believes the special session, expected around Aug. 1, will reappropriate the armory money.

Negro Men Rob Liquor Store

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Police reported that an El Dorado liquor store was robbed of more than $2,000 early today by two Negro men who left the owner and an assistant bound.

Jack Dewey Helms, the operator, said robbers forced their way into the store after it was closed but while he and Vince Passorel were still there.

One Negro had a pistol. After taking the money plus a watch and ring from Helms, the robbers tied up Helms and Passorel and fled.

Passorel managed to knock a telephone from its cradle and dial for help. He and Helms were not injured.

Phoumi, who returned from the United States Tuesday, expressed confidence a national union regime will be formed by the pro-Western, neutralist and Communist factions.

"There should be no difficulty," he told reporters. It was all news-men could do to keep straight faces.

Phoumi and Premier Prince Boun Oum flew to the royal capital of Luang Prabang to report to King Savang Vatthana on the recent talks in Zurich with Prince Souvanna Phouma, the neutralist leader, and Prince Souphanouvong, chief of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels.

A Short Short Story

ROBOT RACE

By RUSS WINTERBOTHAM

Gambler Ace Quick made a study of mathematics, which made him well nigh unbeatable in games of chance. He knew how to figure probabilities from zero to infinity.

Like many amateur and professional mathematicians he had heard of a classical race between a man and a horse—or possibly it was the famous hare-tortoise handicap that Aesop told about.

In this derby the horse could run twice as fast as the man and the man therefore was given a handicap of half the distance between the spot where the horse would start and the finish line.

The speeds of the robot horse and the robot man could be regulated.

When the horse reached the man's starting position, the man had already covered half of his remaining distance. When the horse reached three fourths of his journey, the man was seven-eighths home, and the ratios progressed with the man always one-half the remaining distance ahead of the horse.

Greek mathematicians contended that the man would win, because theoretically the horse would never catch up. But the Greeks probably had never staged such a race.

Modern mathematicians, using calculus which was unknown to the Greeks, pointed out that it is the man who would remain ahead up to the finish line, but the end of the race would be a dead heat. The sum of all the distances the man traveled "ahead" of the horse would never equal one-half the distance the horse ran. However, at the finish, the horse would catch up.

Ace figured the probabilities and decided to stage the race under ideal conditions. It would be impossible to find a horse and a man who would run at exact speeds, therefore he must use mechanical substitutes—a robot horse and a robot man, whose speeds could be carefully regulated.

He had the robots built, he employed expert surveyors to lay out the course, measuring the distance to be traveled exactly, and dividing it in half.

Instead of a standard finish line, Ace used a beam of light. Electronic cells, known as "electric eyes" were placed in the robot horse and man and these would register the exact moment each finished the race.

In the event of a dead heat, both would register simultaneous impulses.

Ace Quick then pointed out that three results were possible: Either the robot horse or robot man could win, or there might be a tie. He expected the majority of mathematicians to bet on the dead heat, but much to his surprise, they bet that the man would win.

They were upholding the classical mathematics of the Greeks.

A few bet on the horse, and a few bet on a dead heat, after figuring out the possible results by calculus.

The race was staged.

The mathematicians collected because the man won.

"Why?" asked Ace Quick.

"Although everything was mechanically perfect," said a mathematician, "you overlooked one point."

"And what was that?"

"The light beam had thickness," said the mathematician. "If the finish line were mathematically perfect, it would have had no thickness. But that's impossible for even the smallest beam. An infinitesimal hair-breadth of the beam projected on both sides of the imaginary, zero-width finish line. The man would remain ahead right up to the finish, but he touched the line a very small fraction of time ahead of the horse."

"A little knowledge is a dangerous thing," said Ace Quick.
